Desires a Settlement of the Question. WASHINGTON, June 5.—President protem Davis, before proceeding with the order of business in the senate this morning, made a personal statement regarding his absence on Friday. He said he was suddenly called away from the circumbally designed by the circumbally and the circumbally designed by the circumbally d denly called away from the city, and his letter designating Ingalls to perfom the duties of the chair on that day, was in ex-act conformity with a letter from a former act conformity with a letter from a former presiding officer, (Thurman) in pursuance of which, a member (Eaton) temporarily discharged the duties of the chair without objection. Since this precedent has been regarded as doubtful authority, the chair, desiring to guide his action by the judgment of the senate, would feel oblige by a decision that would releieve this important

Too Much Rain in Illinois.

CHICAGO, June 5.—The rains of Friday, Saturday and Sunday have brought gloomy messages from some of the corn counties in Illinois. Farmers begin to fear that it will be impossible to finish planting in time to secure a crop, and that the growth of corn already up will be seriously retarded. This moraing, however, the sun rose in a clear sky, the weather is growing warmer every hour, and the prespects are for fine corn weather that will largely compensate for the rains. A little warm sunshine would work a revolution in the appearance of farm lands. Outside of Illinois all dispatches continue to predict a splendid condition of all cereals. dition of all cereals.

Frightful Atrocities. CALCUTTA, June 5.—It is stated stated that the Khonds, an aboriginal tribe in the central provinces, have taken Bhownapats, the chief town of a tribe called the Kultas, whom the Khonds accuse of agrarian encroachments. They looted the treasury and murdered 400 people. Portions of the hair and flesh of the victims were distributed among the hill Khonds, to induce them to join the revolt.

CARIO, June 5.—In consequence of the protest by the British government against military preparations in Egypt, the sultan has telegraphed the khedive to request Arabi Pacha to discontinue them, and to order a cessation of work on the fortifications at Alexandria.

Cincinnati Workers Repudiate Their Contract of Last Fall,

And Order a General Strike-- A Compromise Probable at Pittssurg.

The Situation at Other Points-Chicago Men Ready to go to Work.

CINCINNATI, June 5.—The action of the ron workers, at their meeting on Saturday night, having amounted to a virtual declara-tion for a general strike, on the ground that the committee which made the agree-ment, last fall, with the mill owners, had exceeded its constitutional power, there is a shutting down to-day of all the mills. President Jarrett has been sent for, and either his presence or a message from him is expected at a meeting to be held this PLASTERERS SUCCESSFUL.

The trades unions of New York, yester-The trades unions of New York, yesterday, arranged for a monster mass meeting, to protest against the penal code, which goes into effect Decembernext. It provides for the punishment of persons who break a contract of service or hiring, knowing that the probable consequences will be to endanger persons or valuable property, thus taking cognisance, apparently, of strikes.

Looking to a Compromise at Pittsburg. PITTSBURG, June 5.—It is stated on good authority that the manufacturers will shortauthority that the manufacturers will shortly make the iron workers a proposition to the effect that if they are allowed to choose three men from the Amalgamated association they will let them settle the much-vexed question of wages. If the proposition is accepted, it is believed President Jewett and Secretary Martin and a third party unknown, will be selected, as they are said to favor a compromise.

Chicago Would Like to go to Work. CHICAGO, June 5.—Everything remains quiet among the rolling mill strikers at Irondale. Talks with them indicate that they expect a speedy settlement of the difficulty at Pittsburg, and instructions from the leaders to begin work again, which they would be glad to obey. Rumers are current that negotiations are being carried on with a view to a settlement between the employers and employed on a basis of 5 per cent.

The majority of saloon keepers clo their doors, but quite a number defied the law and did a land office business. Wels, of the Circle House, opened his club room to all members of these-cailed literary club, and under this thin disguise over one thousand people are said to have visited his saloon during the day and night. It was expected that the police authorities was expected that the police authorities would have oused his arrest and closed his place, but instead they were content to take names of visitors for presentation to the grand jury. Hedderich and Bindemann, on East Washington street closed their doors save to special customers. At both there places the police were denied admission, and so they contented themselves, as in the Welz case, with taking names of visitors. Moran, south of the union depot, was open more or less, and notice was given to-day Moran, south of the union depot, was open more or less, and notice was given to day that he would be prosecuted in the city court. It is intimated that the police are very much disturbed over the ruling by Prosecutor Brown (who is a candidate) that in the liquor cases the complainant must see the liquor purchased and drank, and it is further intimated that if he persists in is further intimated that if he persists in this decision it will be practically useless to attempt to bring any violators before the grand jury. Frem the number of empty beer kegs hauled away from the Circle house this morning, the sales yesterday were very large and profitable. It apprears that the trades association has passed a resolution cautioning the membership to obey the Sunday law, but in doing so they expect the police authoriin doing so they expect the police authori-ties to see that all other saloon keepers are ties to see that all other saloon keepers are placed upon the same plane. No criminal prosecution is anticipated. The young man who was accused of boasting of an intimacy with this unfortunate woman, and of leaving an unpaid board bill of $34, has returned and given satisfactory explanation of his abjector. He went on a visit to his parents. He gives an explicit denial of all knowledge of the woman, save, perhaps, a suspicion of her condition, which others also entertained, and is making a laudable effort to rid himself of the unpleasant talk which has arisen within the past few days.

[St. Pani special.]

Two bodies of murdered men, Washington and Fred. Feherbach, were found in Red Eye, seventeen miles north of Perbam, Saturday, where they are now being held awaiting the coroner's arrival. Washington was shot back of the right ear with a load of buckshot. Feherbach had his throat out, and a bullet wound in his left cheek and back of the left ear. Over the right eye a cut in the skull, done by a club found near by, covered with blood. The bodies were found about twenty rods apart.

Washington was surveyor and late inspector of the Minnetoka Mill comgany, of Minnespolis. He was from Bay City, Michigan, and about thirty years old. Feberbach was a young German, twentyone years old, and lived in Perham.

The suspected murderer is one John Tribbett, fifteen years old, who was seen in Perham with plenty of meney and the watch and revolver, which were known to have been the property of Washington. Tribbett was seen in Fargo Friday night by some young men, and he then said he was going to join the cow boys in Montans. The Perham officials telegraphed to the sheriff of Moorhead to arrest Tribbett, but he escaped. The father of the boy feels very badly, but his mother takes the matter very coolly. This youthful orim nal was an admirer and reader of all sorts of sensational literature, and his friends and the friends of his parents feel that he has fallen a victim to it.

BEAUTY OF MOB LAW. Three Innocent Negroes Hung in

Arkansas. LITTLE ROCK, June 5.-Sunday week, LITTLE ROCK, June 5.—Sunday week, great excitement was caused at Butlerville, Lonoke county, by the report that a little girl named Annie Bridges, aged thirteen, was outraged repeatedly by three negroes, whe left her at 8 o'clock that night and fied. Subsequently the report came that the story was untrue, the girl having told it to escape punishment for being out so late. But a special from Des Arc to the Gazette just received, says that the three negroes who outraged Miss Bridges were caught at Newport, Saturday night, and taken to Butlerville; there they were identified by the girl; and on Sunday night a mob rescued them from the officers and all three were hanged to a tree.

Washington, June 5.—In the house this morning, White, of Kentucky, offered a resolution and preamble, the former recalling his resolution relative to the passage of the whisky bond-extension bill from the committee on ways and means and referring it to the committee on expenditures in the treasury department for report. The speaker ruled the resolution out of order, and Kelly, chairman of the ways and means committee, stated that a report would have been made but for White's objection. White said the committee had prepared a white washing report, hence his objection. Kelley deand this and denounced White's statement as a disingenious means of perpetuating his slander on the committee and commissioner of the internal revenue. White further charged that the president of the western export distiller's association had made a bargain with the committee. This was denounced by the committee. This was denounced by Kelley as false, and White asked to have the preamble to his resolution read. But this was not done, and White appealed from the speaker's decision. The house sustained the ruling—144 to 72.

The authorities have ample powers. Let them exercise them to the utmost.

THE literary club contrivance was worked again at the Circle House yesterday. This is a simple device to defy the law. The steerer of it is advertising himself as a man who puts his own will above the law. The principle of his offense is exactly the same as highway robbery or arson. He pleaded guilty once and paid his fine. He can afford to pay fines. It is believed the law can make short work of this flimsy swindle. Let it lay hold of it and send this man who sets himself up as more powerful than the people of the state of Indiana, to jail. We guarantee that such a course will take the peartness out of the YESTERDAY, our neighbor, the Times, learned that that the Indianapolis corres pondent of the Cincinnati Gazette had made the discovery that the prohibition amendment, if finally adopted by the people, would result only in repealing all laws concerning the liquor trafic, and that there would have to be legislation after its should have to be legislation after its should have to earry it into effect. South Australia has a population of 279,866. Its debt had grown from $11,000,000 in 1881.

This morning our neighbor is still agitated over this and cackles loudly. If it will turn to The News of May 11, it will see there in an editorial combatting some of its (The Times's) laps and slams on this question, that very thing plainly staed. It was there shown that there had to be not merely two or three, but four stages for the adoption of prohibition, thus excosing the hollowness of the Times's pretenions that it was adopted only when the people voted directly upon it, The Times should rig up a pile-driver and stand under it.

Without doubt, Mr. Keifer is the most unfit speaker the American house of representatives ever has had. For the character of the country, to say nothing of the dignity and decency of its representative assembly, it is to be fervently hoped that no future congress will be subjected to the infliction of another like him.—[Chicago Timea.

That is about the average impression. In this connection it is to be noted that Keifer is a stalwart product, and was made speaker to subserve stalwart ends, and not secause of his virtues. That is the bosses' idea of government. The bosses must go.

Honest poverty is a poor factor in Colorado politics. Of the dozen or more aspirants for the successorship of Senator Chilcott's seat all are millionnaires. As a Central City tral City exchange puts it, in the centennial state, at any rate, the poor man in politics is a d.-d barren ideality."—[Philadelphia Record.

The protective tariff was to accomplish glorious things for the worker in iron. But wherein is he better off under such a system of spolistion than if the tariff were for revenue? His labor is no more protected than that of a carpenter, or barber, or teamster. And, when the prices he pays are taken into consideration, he enjoys no higher wages than the English worker in iron. The iron masters, not the iron workers, are the real beneficiaries of the pretective system.—[Chicago Times.

We are gathering into this country under our high tariff, a vast body of foreign lab-orers of a very low class, whose wages, un-der the protective system, must necessarily be small, and whose turbulent discontent be small, and whose turbulent discontent we have no proper means of coping with. They are turning out increasing quantities of goods, to the consumption of which our own population is insected, and we have no foreign markets, and our sarpius. The chances, are therefore, that the final and complete breakdown of the protective system will come through the suffering of the laborers, for whose comfort protectionists pretend that the tariff is framed.—[New York Evening Post.

Senator Harrison, of Indiana, does not Senator Harrison, of Indians, does not regard "the labor troubles throughout the country as a cause for serious alarm." In this he differs very greatly from those who have watched the movement from its inception. It is a most serious cause for alarm when from 60,000 to 100,000 producers in this country leave their work because of insufficient wages. The disturbances extend beyond their own employment and paralyze every branch of business. Wholesele merchants are contracting their lines ale merchants are contracting their lines of credit; gold is being taken from the country to purchase in foreign man cets the goods that cannot be made here by reason of these labor difficulties, and a feeling of distrust and uncertainty pervades every possible branch of trade and commerce. No attempt has been made by congress to intervene, or to give their attention to other than political schemes. Sooner or later this question must receive the attention of the government, and the sooner the better.—[Chicago News.]

His wound was dressed and he rested easy for a time, but at last accounts his condition was more critical and his life was considered in langer.

A bloody fight took place Sunday, a few miles southwest of Centerville. The Listner and Plankerhorn brothers, all farmers, settled an old grudge. Two of the Listner brothers attacked Lewis Plankerhorn. In the midst of the fight Pete Listner drew a large pocket knife and went to cutting Lewis Plankerhorn in a fearful manner. Lewis was cut through the shoulder, twice across the arm and twice across the back, one of the cuts reaching from the shoulder-blade to the waist. He is in a very critical condition.

A petition has been put in circulation at Lafayette, and is receiving many signa-tures from among she most substantial tar-payers, saking the county commissioners to proceed with the construction of the county court house, without re-letting the same to bidders. The petitioners ask that Elfas Max be retained as superintendent of the work. The foundations have been laid to the water table. It is most likely the poard will decide to do this, as it is pretty well understood that they are not averse to the petition.

The famous cheese case of Martin Murphy The famous cheese case of Martin Murphy vs. Elishs Carr, brought from Clark county and which has been in the courts for four years, has been decided in the Floyd circuit court by special Judge Wolfe in favor of Carr. Murphy brought suit to recover $2,000 due for milk furnished Carr's cheese factory at Charlestown. The defendant, on two trisis lasting eight days each, found that the milk furnished was full of blood, hair, dirt and filth of all kinds, since which proof the sale of the cheese in this section has largely decreased. The coets in the case against Murphy will amount to about $2,000.

Hard on Mahone. Lynchburg News.

A good story is told, and it has the adantage of being true, about the young son one of our citizens who is attending one of our state colleges. While on the cars recently, the young gentleman got up and gave his seat to two gentlemen whom he did not know, but who were looking for a seat together. When the boy moved out one of the gentlemen praised him for his courtesy, and said to him that one of these days he might be a senator like "Billy Ma-hone." The young gentleman raised him-self up in his seat and said, half seriously and half jocosely, "I hope you don't mean to insult me by comparing me to Billy Ma-hone." The youth did not understand, the laugh that rang through the car as he said this, but he learned afterwards that the companion of the gentleman who addressed him was none other than Mahone himself Ever since the occurrence the friends of the young Lynchburger who thus bearded the readjuster boss call him "general."

The Bond Forgery Mystery. Mr. Guild, attorney for William Brock-way, alias Edward Spencer, the noted coun-terfeiter, is in Washington, and will de-mand that the government carry out its ortginal agreement with his client and reoriginal agreement with his chent and re-lease him. He was arrested in New York Saturday and taken thence to Washington. The case is surrounded with mystery. It is certain that the government did not pro-cure Brockway's indictment, and it is not known who is behind some of the individuals who have appeared against Brockway here. There is no longer any doubt in the minds of the treasury officials who have heen investigating the bond forgeries that the plates were made from genuine dies obtained from the bureau of engraving and printing. It is reported that $23,000,o00 of forged bonds, made from impressions obtained from genuine plates, are in circulation. Sensational reports are also affoat of the issue of spurious silver certificates made from impressions obtained of genuine

The inflorescent state of the verdure is being materially retarded by the present continuously gelid condition of the atmosphere, which same delinquency in nature seems to be producing a stringency in vegetables that is making of them a luxury considerably beyond the indulgence of the average editor. Fish are better as brain food, though, anyhow, and we can catch enough for a meal any time in two hours, if we can only borrow a hook and line, and the lake don't freeze up.

"Look not long on the face of the dead; Leave the Past in the Past," they said.
"Dig some grave for the old despair; Bury at far out of sight and sound; The years bring nothing but sorrow and care— Bury the hast ere the next comes round, Or the burden will grow too great to bear."

I said not yea, and I said not nay, But I wept when they carried the corpse away. I flung to the wind the flowers that were cead, dead,
I covered their places with new-turned mold;
I watched and watered the empty bed locked the door on the unused stair; broke in pieces the vacant chair; I looked not back as the days went by; let the grass grow over the Past.

I could not smile, and I would not sigh—trought that I should forget at last;
I would not believe that I winhed to die.

Till, behold one day I awoke to find
That the whole of my life was left behird,
That I walked alone in a world of akr,
a world of all sound and speech bereft.
The Past may hold but a song of despair,
But take it away, and there's nothing left,
Only the silence everywhere.

I wandered back to the desolate place;
I looked again on the the dear dead face.
I counted the sorrows the years had sown;
I kissed them and gathered them into my heart
And I felt they were mine, my all, my own,
That I and my Past could never part.

At times he has had both allopathic and homeopathic schools together in consultation, being evidently determined to be on the right side anyway. He has a trouble-some nervous affection. It was glory enough for homeopathy when at the Berlin conference both Beaconsfield and Bismarck had medical advisers of that Bismarck had medical advisers of that school. On one occasion at Harrisburg, Judge Black delig htfullw deluded genial, dinner-loving, story-telling Dave Sellers. Sellers and the judge were engaged in a law case, and about noon, as they were leaving the court room, the judge said: "People round here dine at 12 o'clock. I don't like this custom, and prefer dining at 4 or 5. As I know of a splendid restaurant in this town, suppose we stroll about till 4 o'clock, and then dine." Sellers assented willingly, and the hours few pleasantly by beneath the spreading trees that border the stately Susquehanna. As the hour of a spproached they strolled into the town and down the main street, and wandered about with a great deal of promiscuoussess. Finally the judge, looking around, remarked in a solemn voice to his companion: "Do you know, I believe the restaurant I told you about is in Baltimore."

A Big Enterprise.

John C. Cooley, president of the Chicago Malleable Iron company. A. A. Pope, of the Cleveland company, and J. H. Whita-more of the Tuttle & Whitamore company, more of the Tuttle & Whitamore company, Naugatuck, Conn., on Saturday formed a syndicate and purchased the Johnson Malleable Iron works at Hanghaville. The same will be enlarged, and the manufacturing capacity increased so as to give employment to 400 or 500 men. The capital stock will he $200,000. will be $200,000.

Additional Telegraph Facilities. The Belt road is getting too much business for one line of telegraph wire, and is putting up another. A man mounted on a neat little hand car, carries a huge flat spool on the left side, wound with wire, and as the car moves along at an ordinary foot pace, the wire is unrecled along the foot pace, the wire is unreeled along the track; two or three men with "climbing spurs" carry it up the poles and fasten it to the insulators; and then down and on, and keep close after the the car, and thus mile after mile is put up and ready for use with a speed that is astonishing to one unfamiliar with the process.

Thrilling Mystery. There is a mysterious pig pen on the west side, near the Belmont crossing of the Vandalia road. There are not less than a thousand empty fruit cans in it. They are too far off, to have been thrown from the railroad, even if the cars would carry empty cans to the pigs. No wagen can possibly drive down the track. And no wagon can set in from the wagon road without an get in from the wagon road without earing down two fences. Besides what tu the world can the pigs do with empty fruit cans? How did they get there, and what are they there for? There is a full wsgon load of them and no visible means to get a wagon to the place.

Claimed His Child.

An incident of last week is reported in the morning press, to the following effect. About one month ago K. A. Thompson, of Pittsburg, was given employment in Root's foundry. He was accompanied to this city by his supposed wife and child. Last week C. D. Taylor, of Pittsburg, and a conductor on the Ft. Wayne road, came here and claimed the child, and then it leaked out that Thompson had eloped with Taylor's wife. The meeting between the two men was friendly. The child was surrendered, after which Taylor returned to Pittsburg. while Thompson and woman, fearful of prosecution by the city authorities left here and went to St. Louis. Thompson is said to have deserted a wife and family to elope with Mrs. Taylor. Claimed His Child.

Gray's Specific Medicine (the Great English Remedy) is a positive and effectual remedy for all Nervous Diseases in every stage of life—young rold, male or femals. Such as Impaired Brais Power, Prostration, loss of Strength and Vitality, Defective Memory, and diseases from which as nonatural waste of life arriang all of which can not all to undamne the whole system. Brey are an investment of disease are generated which, it not checked, pave the way to an early death. The physician that he had been in the habit of usning opium to excess for several years. The messenger returned with thirty grains. Mr. Jordan was asked to apportion the drug according to his usual habit; where-upon he was a swallowed the entire thirty grains before the attendant of cian could interpose. Emetics were used without avail. Death resulted orthy afterwards. The remains have some ent Dr. Haggart and the Smallpox.

To the Editor of The Indianapolis News

My name has been dragged into public print a number of times in connection with the different cases of smallpox I had been attending lately, with some misstatements and perversion of the truth, but for want of earse time and my disinglisation. ments and perversion of the truth, but for want of spare time and my disinclination to enter into a newspaper controversy with jealous idlers and gossipers, the matter was left to pees unnoticed. But in your issue of the 3d inst. appears an article, editorially, containing a number of untruths, and reveals such a spirit of vindicetiveness, seemingly with intent to injure me professionally, that seif-preservation demands that I should ask space in your columns to state the facts. In reportjure me professionally, that seif-preservation demands that I should ask space in your columns to state the facts. In reporting the death of Mrs. Van Deren, you state that "the evil originated from Dr. Haggart's injudicious action." This is a grave charge, and one that you can not substantiate, and must, therefore, reflect upon The News instead of upon me, as it was evidently intend, ed it should. And as for your statement that it is believed that Mrs. Van Deren contracted 'the disease while seated next to me at a dinner table during the meeting of the woman's sufrage convention, I will say that I took dinner and supper at my own table that day, and that we had company at both meals, and Mrs. Van D. was not among the number, and, more than that, I have not seen her since January last, until I was called to attend her in her last sickness. Besides it is quite unreasonable to suppose that Mrs. Van Deren should select me to attend her in perference to Dr. P. H. Jameson, who was called to see her by unauthorized parties, if she believed that I had infected her. And your claim that Dr. Walker vaccinated the Van Deren family is quite in keeping with other announcements of that official's doings since we have that vaccinated the Van Deren family is quite in keeping with other announcements of that official's doings since we have the smallpox scare with us. I vaccinated the Van Deren family in December last and revaccinated them the same day the mother broke out with the smallpox.

Respectfully, Dr. D. HAGGART.

MARKET REPORT,

Indianapolis Wholesale Market-Daily Review. The markets for ten days have been unusually steady. "A moderate trade" is the almost stero-typed expression in groceries. Coffees are easy and very quiet; sugars firmer and active; teas dull; rice strong; syrups are shaded ic per gal-lon; New Orleans molasses, straight, strong; mixed, lower; canned apples, corn, peas, tomatoes higher generally; small fruits weak; peaches firm.

Dry goods merchants this season have catered to the better class of customers and have in-creased stocks largely, Margins on sales have been close, and trade has hardly justified the creased stocks largely, Margins on sales have been close, and trade has hardly justified the efforts of local dealers to satisfy buyers; yet there is a general feeling that the improvement of the past week will continue and the outlook is quite satisfactory.

On the street to-day, "they" claim that it is settled that Senator Grubba, of Morgan, will succeed Baggs as revenue collector. Grubba was a law student once upon a time in Harrison's office, and he it was who nominated Mr. Harrison for U. S. senator.

A destitute woman, with five children, is at the Union depot, on the way to her home near Richmond, Va. She is worthy of charity, and is kept supplied with food by charitable persons. Contributions to purchase the family tickets to Washington will be received at Yohn's book store.

A Case in the Center of the City-Vigerous Action of the Health Boards-Proceedings Against Dr. Watters.

A case of smallpox was discovered yesterday in the Ross block, at the corner of the Circle and Market street. The sufferer is Mrs. McChesney, who is one of the proof-readers of the Sentinel. She has been sick about a week, Dr. P. J. Watters being her attending physician. She has been confined to her bed for four days, and during the time received visits from friends. Dr. Watters yesterday called Dr. R. N. Todd into consultation, and the latter pronounced the case smallpox, and Mrs. McChesney, with her daughter, was removed to the pest house. Several theories are advanced as te the origin of the case, but none of them are satisfactory. Mrs. McChesney is herself unable to explain it. This is the third case which has appeared in the city the past week, and the health boards, city and county, are taking the most active steps to prevent its spread.

The county health officer makes the following announcement relative to the appointment of Flanner & Hommown to take charge of bodies of persons dying of smallpox, from which it will be seen that the work can in no wise interfere with the regular business of the firm:

The firm of Messra, Flanner & Hommown undertakers, are authorized to bury all persons ular business of the firm:

The firm of Messrs. Flanner & Hommown undertakers, are authorized to bury all persons who die of smallpox in Marion county. They are required to employ two careful men of experience, who are not allowed to come to their office, and who are to have full control of all smal pox burials, and use a wagon and horses that shall not be used for any other purpose than above stated and to convey smallpox patients to the pest house. Said wagon to be marked "Smallpox Wagon," and to be disinfected after each burial, and not allowed in the city except when on duty. The men having charge of the work shall make a complete change of pure clothing before and after each burial.

The city health board issues a bulletin

The city health board issues a bulletin urging vaccination, requiring physicians to make immediate reports to the health board of all cases of smallpox or other in-festious diseases.

At the meeting of the health board this morning it was ordered that the sanitary officers should immediately proceed to file against Dr. Watters for neglect of duty in not reporting Mrs. McChesney's case and further ordered that the Ross block be immediately and theoryably disingeded and further ordered that the Ross block be immediately and thoroughly disinfected from top to bottom, and everything that would be liable to spread the contagion to be destroyed. It must be borne in mind by all physicians that the law requires report of cases to be made within twelve hours after examination, and in case of failure so to do the fine is from ten to twenty-five dellars. Proceedings against Dr. Haggart are also threatened.

THE BOTHERSOME QUESTION.

Convention Resolutions as to Prohibition Kindly Prepared in Advance by Gentlemen Having the Salvation of the Re publican Party at Heart.

There is much putting of heads together and interchanging of opinions among re-publican leaders relative to the best thing for the republican state convention to do on the prohibition question. After consid-erable deliberation and consultation the following resolutions have been framed, which are believed by those who have formulated them to solve completely what threatens to be a serious problem:

threatens to be a serious problem:

Whereas, Certain amendments to the state constitution were agreed to by the members of each house of the last general assembly, and stand referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next election; and whereas, The constitution is the organic law of the state, embracing the rights and powers of the people, delegated to their representatives in office, and the rights and powers reserved by themselves to themselves, it follows that propositions for its amendment demand the fullest, fairest decision by the people; and whereas, By article sixteen, section one, the constitution requires the people of the state to express themselves now upon the pending amendments, by representative and senatorial districts; Therefore, amendments, by representative and senatorial districts; Therefore, Resolved, That the several legislative districts of the state be directed to give to the proposed amendments merited consideration, and voice the decision of the majority of the republicans therein, either for or against the advancement of the amendments to a separate and direct vote of the people, as the case may be, in the selection of their candidates for the legislature, and in any other manner that the people of the several districts in the exercise of this constitutional right may adopt.

It will be seen from a careful reading of

It will be seen from a careful reading of It will be seen from a careful reading of the resolution, that the word "advance-ment" is used instead of "submission," and that they embody the idea that the question is one for the counties to con-sider independently of each other, while at the same time it takes ground that the question is now before the people.

THE SUPERIOR CCURT.

Meeting in General Term-Important Opinion Relative to Evidence and Wills. The superior court met in general term this morning, Judges Howe and Walker present. The following cases were reported:

this morning, Judges Howe and Walker present. The following cases were reported: Harvey L. Moon vs. Ass N. Shimer. Affirmed. No opinion.

Arthur L. Wright, administrator, vs. Jesse Jones et al. Reversed. In this case Judge Howe presented the opinion, an abstract of which shows the following legal points:

Evidence of a parol agreement between a testarix and her husband, prior to the execution of a will, is not admissable in the interpretation of it, 35 Ind., 116; Judy vs. Gilbert (S. C. of Ind.) At common law a widow is not put to her election unless there is a clear purport apparent from the will itself not to give the devise to her in addition to her dower. 1 Pomery, esq. Jur, 551; 2 Redfield wils (3 ed.) 383; 8 Blackf, 378. And if a widower can be put to his election in this state, it seems that he would be entitled to the benefit of the common law rule as to widows. The taking possession of lard, solid pursuant to a verbal contract, is sufficient part performance of it to take it out of the state of frauds, Pomeroy Spec. Perf. 315. The same rule applies when possession has been taken pursuant to a parol petition. Pomeroy spec. Perf., 212; Isrown Stat., Frauds (3d ed.) a 176; 46 Ind., 465, Savage vs. Lee, (S. C. of Ind., Dec. 16, 1831.) or pursuant to a parol petition. Pomeroy spec. Perf., 21; Isrown Stat., Frauds (3d ed.), a 172; 11 Gray, 566. A stranger to a contract can not be heard to set up the objection that it is invalid by reson of the statute of frauds, Brown's Stat. Frauds, (3d ed.), a 172; 110 Mass., 508; 4 Sneed, 301; 49 Illinois, 289; 55 Penn St., 89; Savage vs. Lee, (S. C. of Ind.)

The Railroads.

The schedule of debts of the I. & St. L. R. R. C. C. & I rallway co.; and the rent due to the St. Louis, Alton & Terre Haute railroad company, now in litigation in the suit before Jadge Drummond. The outstanding claims due material men, have most of them accrued within six months before the appointment of a receiver. The pay roll for April is being paid to-day, and the men will hereafter be promptly paid, as they have heretofore been.

CORRECTION:

A very annoying blunder occurred in Saturday's News in the display advertisement of Roots & Co., who have purchased Heary Schwinge's North Illinois street Tea store, by substituting Pennsylvania for Illinois street. The lapsus penna would hardly mislead any one as the correct number and description were given both at the bottom of the advertisement and in a reading notice on another page. Still as Mr. Schwinge has another Tea store on North Pennsylvania street, which he probably would not sell, the correction is gladly made.

The sale of Henry Schwinge's elegant tea store at No. 50 North Illinois street to Roots & Co., turns out to be a more important transaction than was supposed in the first announcement, rendered so by the energetic steps taken toward enlargement of the humans. energetic steps taken toward enlargement of the business. While diminishing nothing in teas, canned goods and fancy groceries, they have added also the general grocery stock, including vegetables, etc. This department will open Tuesday next. The preparations have been extensive for handling fresh goods in a superior manner. A mammoth refrigerator of the most improved design has been put in and nothing has been omitted to furnish Indianapolis with a model establishment. The senior partner, Mr. C. P. Roots, is not Indianapolis with a model establishment. The senior partner, Mr. C. P. Roots, is not unknown among commercial gentlemen of the city. He was formerly proprietor of the Connersville woolen mills, and afterwards took the city. He was formerly proprietor of the Connersville woolen mills, and afterwards took a hand in the jobbing interests of South Meridian street, and lately engaged in farming interests. Mr. J. A. Wadley, late of the Cincinnati house of Shipley, Hoover & Co., constitutes the company. The firm has secured the services of Mr. W. C. Langdon, formerly of Davis & Langdon, who is an expert grocer. Altogether no business has been launched in this city for many a day with better prospects for large success. No invidious distinction is meant, but a simple fact stated, in saying that this establishment is now the best appointed and handsomest tea and general grocery store in Indiana.
